Visitors Say That World's Fair Will Beat All Exposition Records.

HANDSOMELY ENTERTAINED.

Reception at Real Estate Exchange and Tour of the City and Fair Grounds Make Up Programme.

for their city last night as the vanguard of advertisers in the metropolis on the lakes of the Universal Exposition at St.

Louis. The Real Estate Board of the first great World's Fair municipality came to see for themselves what their sister city on the Mississippi was preparing to show the na-

Their slogan will henceforth be: "It's a two world beater." With this characteristic tee Chicago sentiment the builders of that great city intend to advertise the St. Louis show as the most monumental type of American gentus. At the outset of an elaborate itinerary card appeared the verses which they song lustily throughout their day in the Exposition city. It runs:

Oh, wouldn't you like to have a gay time On the banks of the Mississippi? Oh, wouldn't you like to have a hot time In old St. Louis city?

How frequently the refrain was repeated yesterday seemed to indicate that they enjoyed their visit, made up of a visit to the Anheuser-Busch Brewery, a drive about the Anheuser-Busch Brewery a drive about the Henry Marsells, 2 months, 3187 Lambdini Exposition grounds, with dinner served at fresco at Forest Park Cottage.

"Never again will the Chicago idea of St. Louis stop at the greatness of her brew-St. Louis stop at the greatness of her brewing interests," said a member of the party.
"We have been impressed by her industrial greatness in many other lines, and, best of all, we are proud that she will outdo the Columbian Exposition."

The party arrived at 7.35 a. m. and breakfasted at the Southern Hotel. After meeting the committee of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange at 9 a. m. special electric cars conveyed the Chicagoans to the plant of the Anheuser-Busch brewery;

PRAISE ST. LOUIS

Straight from that point the special cars carried the party to the Exposition grounds, carried the party to the Exposition grounds, in charge of Sidney Schiele, Albert T. Terry, A. R. Schollmeyer and F. S. Parker of the Real Extate Exchange. After being photographed on the steps of the Administration building, they were welcomed by Secretary Waiter B. Stevens, who spoke of the advantages of personal discrevation by out-of-town visitors as a good avenue for publicity.

town visitors as a good avenue for publicity.

W. D. Kerfoot, who was a director of the Columbian Exposition, former Compriolier of Chicago, and now a prominent real estate man, replied for the party and related the experiences which Chicago had with its Exposition under similar circumstances. Luncheon was served at the Administration building, where speeches were made by Secretary Stevens and Exposition Director A. H. Frederick, by President W. A. Giraldin and other officials of the St. Louis Exposition, and two or three of the specially gifted speakers of the visiting party. lowed.

Dinner was served at the Cottage at 6:30 p.m., where Director of Works Taylor entertained the visitors with a comprehensive account of the physical proportions of the universal exposition.

He made special allusions to the vastness of the site, the unparalled immensity of the exhibit palaces, the gigantic nature of the great cascade system and the elaborate nature of the sculptural decoration.

INDIVIDED IN IGNES

INDULGED IN JOKES. President Baird of the Chicago Exchange introduced several Chicago speakers, all of whom acknowledged that what they had seen was a revelation and a justific seen was a revelation and a justification in believing that the St. Louis World's Fair would easily surpass any preceding exposition. At II:00 p. m. the Chicagoans entered their special train for their homes. At the reception on the floor of the Real Estate Exchange in the morning goodnatured fun was indulged in at the expense of the visitors. Among the notices posted on the hulletin boards were the following: FOR EXCHANGE-Fish market, with a large stock of live lobsters. Would trade for blue sky anywhere outside of the Chicago hot air belt.

WANTED-Salesman who is a hustler. Chicago man without a conscience preferred.

TO EXCHANGE-Chicago real estate for a par-

TO EXCHANGE—Chicago real estate for a partot of anything.

WANTED—A REAL bustler; one who can self-chicago property.

FOR TRADE—Chicago real estate for smoke or anything that goes up.

WANTED—To exchange two highballs without for a half interest in an ice plant.

LOAN WANTED—I want to borrow 2 cents on my return ticket. May self cheap, as I like St. LOAN.

At the suggestion of President Giraldin.

Icuis.

At the suggestion of President Giraldin the visitors were elected honorary members of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange, and, aside from all joking, the fact remained that the day's visit of the Chicago hustlers was felt to be mutually profitable.
